

Energy Efficiency NOW:

Discover the Value of Energy Efficiency in Commercial & Residential Buildings (Commercial Track)

Location: Hotel Captain Cook, Anchorage

Wednesday, March 29, 2017

- 8:00am Registration Check In & Breakfast
- 8:30am Welcome - Bryan Butcher CEO/Executive Director, Alaska Housing Finance Corporation
Opening Remarks - Mayor Ethan Berkowitz
- 8:50am Alaska the 8-Star State with 6-Star Houses
Sandy Adomatis SRA, LEED Green Associate, Adomatis Appraisal Services and Dominique Pride
The value of energy efficiency in commercial and residential buildings
- 9:50am Break
- 10:15am The Bottom Line and Beyond
Eric McCallum, Owner, Arctic Wire Rope and Supply Inc. / Jeff Judd EVP, Cook Inlet Housing / Neil McMahon, Planning Manager, Alaska Energy Authority
It's no secret building efficiency is linked to an organization's bottom line. But how much of an impact does it make? This session will highlight the financial benefits of building efficiency as well as the intended and unintended impacts.
- 11:45am Lunch
- Noon Keynote: The Honorable Chris Hladick, Commissioner, Department of Commerce, Community and Economic Development
- 12:45pm Break
- 1:10pm Financial Pathways
Burt Hunter, Executive Vice President and Chief Investment Officer, Connecticut Green Bank / Adam Krynicki, Technology and Energy Director, Alaska Small Business Development Center / Robert Venables, Southeast Partnership
Traditional project funding has dried-up and forced project managers to look for new opportunities. This session will highlight the opportunities discovered and the successful financial project mechanisms implemented.
- 2:40pm Break

3:00pm Putting the Pieces of the Puzzle Together
Dena Strait RA, EMP, CEA-IT, Lead Green Associate, Energy Programs Manager, Bettisworth North / Griffith Turpin, PMP, Energy Management and Utilities JBER / Christopher Hodgins P.E., C.E.M., LEED-AP, CCCA, Program Manager DOT&PF
Designing a project without the proper tools and resources is like building a puzzle without all the pieces. This session will highlight project management best practices that ensure all the design and engineering puzzle pieces are in the box before the project starts.

4:30pm Adjourn

Thursday, March 30, 2017

8:00am Registration Check In & Breakfast

8:30am Opening Remarks - Jan Miyagishima, Mortgage Operations Director, Alaska Housing Finance Corporation

8:45am Plenary Speaker: The Art of Lighting
Brad Jackson P.E., PDC Inc. Engineers
Lighting is an art that, when done well, maximizes illumination and efficiency for optimal performance. This session will highlight new lighting designs and products that maximize building performance and efficiency.

9:45am Break

10:15am Communication = Success – Dr. Paul Cotter PhD., Principal, Cotter & Noson Consulting Services LLC. and Petra Sattler-Smith AIA, Principal Lumen Design – Description - Communication is the key to success. This session will highlight the benefits of productive communication in project development and how it is critical to energy efficiency success.

11:45am Lunch

Noon Keynote: Alaska Economic Climate and Outlook
Neal Fried, Economist, State of Alaska, Department of Labor & Workforce Development

12:45pm Break

1:10pm Managing for Efficiency and Value
Michael Singleton, Facilities Management Manager, Public Housing, Alaska Housing Finance Corporation / Michael Black, Director for Program Development, ANTHC / Jim Fowler P.E., C.E.A., CBCP, Founder & Principal, Alaska Energy Audits
Building managers perform unglamorous work. They often find themselves pulled in different directions by competing interests, yet they can overcome this adversity by managing for efficiency and mission. This session will highlight how building managers can optimize their buildings for peak occupancy and efficiency performance allowing for an increase in mission effectiveness.

2:40pm Break

3:00pm Lessons Learned From Case Studies: Avoiding Pitfalls & Spotlighting Success Part II
Jason Collins RA, LEED-BD+C, CEA, BPI, Wolf Architecture / Michael Nero Director, Capital Planning /
Construction, Anchorage School District / Carey Meyer, Public Works Director, Homer, Alaska / Stephen
Trimble, Founder, CEO, Arctic Solar Ventures Corporation

4:30pm Adjourn